PROTESTS MADE BY BOTH PARTIES OVER MANCHUKUAN CLASH

Fierce Battle With Rifles and Machine Guns Said to Have Followed Crossing of Border by Japanese Detachment—Four Manchukuan Soldiers Reported Killed Near Chientao

MOSCOW, Oct. 12 (AP).—A stiff Soviet counter-protest following swiftly in the wake of a Japanese protest from Tokyo, heightened the tension tonight over the alleged invasion by Japanese troops into Soviet territory in the Far East.

(In Tokyo, Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita late last night instructed the Japanese Embassy in Moscow to protest the incidents.)

An official Russian Government communique said two attacks occurred yesterday. A Japanese detachment of thirty-five men, the communique asserted, crossed into Soviet territory near Paksherkori, on the southernmost part of the Soviet-Manchurian border, where they clashed with Soviet frontier guards.

A FIERCE BATTLE
After a fierce half-hour battle, with rifles and machine guns freely used, the invaders reportedly withdrew into Manchuria.

The same afternoon, the Soviet communique said, Japanese ambushed Soviet forces from trenches constructed on Soviet soil near the village of Saldorka. As before, the Japanese asserted, they retired under fire.

B. I. Kozlovsky, head of the Second Eastern Department of the Soviet Foreign Office, summoned Shchek Sakhon, Japanese charge d'affaires at Moscow, to the Foreign Office, and protested, demanding the cessation of the attacks.

Germans Charge Hitler Is Insulted by Communist—Leftists Alleged Meddling

PARIS, Oct. 12 (AP).—French Leftists charged Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany with meddling in "France's internal affairs" today in an attempt to split the People's Front Government of Premier Leon Blum.

The accusations, published in Leftist newspapers, followed reports from Berlin that the German Government would protest statements, described as "insulting" to the Reich's Chancellor, made during a Strasbourg speech by Maurice Thorez, Secretary-General of the French Communist party.

TO LODGE PROTEST
BERLIN, Oct. 12 (AP).—The Propaganda Ministry said tonight the German Government had ordered its ambassador in Paris to lodge a formal protest against an alleged insult to Chancellor Hitler by Maurice Thorez, secretary-general of the French Communist party.

The official German news agency said Thorez, in a week-end speech to a Communist gathering at Strasbourg, France, distorted Hitler's Winter relief speech, made on October 6.

This report also said a picture, displayed on a Communist platform during the Strasbourg meeting, depicted Hitler with a bloody knife between his teeth, against a background of cannons and bayonets.

ORDER RESTORED AS STRIKE ENDS

Arab Shops in Holy Land Opened for First Time in Twenty-Five Weeks

JERUSALEM, Oct. 12 (AP).—Crowds flocked today into Arab shops, open for the first time in twenty-five weeks, under the watchful eye of British troops alert to curb any renewal of the violence which took more than 400 lives during the Arab general strike.

Lieut. General J. G. Dill, commander of the British forces, expressed the hope the "campaign of murder and banditry now will cease," but warned that "for some time it will be necessary for all ranks to keep themselves in readiness for instant action in support of law and order."

THIRTY-ONE KILLED IN JAPANESE MINE

FUKUOKA, Japan, Oct. 12 (AP).—Twenty-one persons were killed, twenty-two seriously injured and many missing today in a gas explosion in a nearby coal mine.

France Will Provide Steady Market for Wheat of Dominion

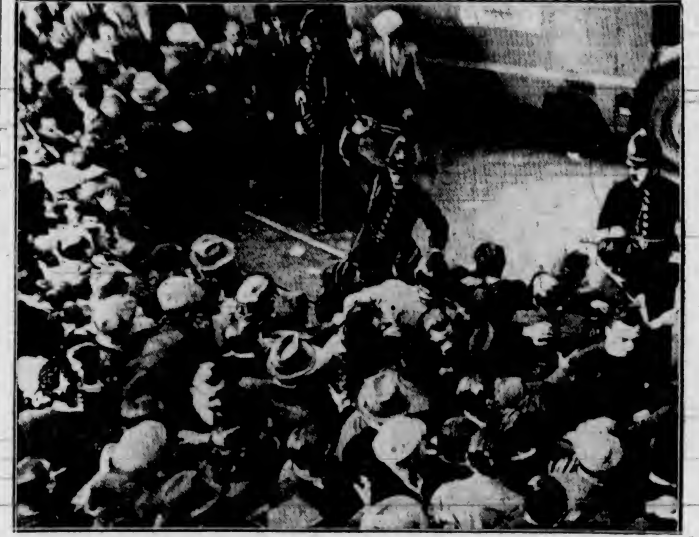

Assurances Given Prime Minister Mackenzie King That Canada Will Get Fair Share If Imports of Grain Are Increased

PARIS, Oct. 12 (AP).—A steady market for Canadian wheat in France is promised as the outcome of conversations begun in Geneva and now being continued in Paris between Prime Minister Mackenzie King, Premier Blum and members of the Blum Government.

Since the popular front came into power last June, sweeping changes have been made in the economic life of France. Social laws have been passed improving the lot of the workers but putting heavier charges on industry.

In finance the deflationary policy of the last few years was reversed. As a consequence of devaluation of the franc, France was able to modify her import quotas and make tariff reductions. At the same time, however, French farmers are active in agitation against any measure in agriculture.

London Policemen Quell Serious Riot

This photograph, sent by radio from the scene, shows London bobbies quelling a riot in the city's East End. Cables describe the riot as having been the work of a Fascist band that invaded the Jewish section of the city, smashing windows and plate glass fronts with rocks and stones, to show their displeasure over the cancellation of a parade planned by Sir Oswald Mosley, British Fascist leader.

TRI-POWER ACTION TAKEN TO STABILIZE FOREIGN EXCHANGE

Report Opposes Nationalization of British Arms Industry

LONDON, Oct. 12 (AP).—The Royal Commission investigating the armaments business reported against nationalization of the arms industry, it was understood today. But it was believed to favor full Government control of all munition-making business at the outbreak of war together with conscription of capital.

The commission has completed its report, which is now in the hands of the Government. The report is said to point out nationalization would require a special labor reserve and that under present conditions such labor can normally be employed for ordinary commercial purposes. The commission also felt such a step would bring armaments directly into the political field with many consequent dangers.

Cabinet Meeting Ignored as B.C. Ministers Wait

British Columbia Government and Victoria Delegation Wait in Vain for Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Transport—Fog Blankets Flying at Intended B.C. Air Base

PREMIER Pattullo and senior members of the Provincial Cabinet waited from 10:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. yesterday for Hon. C. D. Howe, Federal Minister of Transport, to keep a formal appointment made with the British Columbia Government for the morning. Mr. Howe did not arrive.

Delegations from the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, the Victoria Liberal Association, and other groups equally anxious to meet the minister were similarly disappointed.

WINTER STRIKES HARD IN EAST

Snow Falls in Ontario and Quebec—Gale Damages Nova Scotia Crops

TORONTO, Oct. 12 (AP).—Storms raked Eastern Canada during Thanksgiving week-end. Gales brought snow flurries in most parts of Ontario, ripped down awnings, cancelled sports events, forced citizens to spend the holiday indoors.

Northern Ontario reported snow from practically every sector, in many cases at least a month ahead of last year. First hint of cold weather occurred in Northeastern Quebec, where a severe storm broke hour gale swept through the province and the thermometer sank to 40 degrees below zero. Snow was reported in some districts. Hydro poles, barns and trees fell before the wind. Roads were blown off in some instances.

Heavy damage was done in Nova Scotia. Gale knocked an estimated 50,000 barrels of apples from trees; a loss estimated at between $100,000 and $150,000.

TRY TO PREVENT DANGEROUS HOP

Australian Aviation Board Opposing Flight by Jean Batten Over Tasman Sea

MELBOURNE, Oct. 12 (AP).—Aviation authorities are trying tonight to prevent Jean Batten, woman flyer seeking an England-to-New Zealand flight record, from attempting the perilous 1,100-mile hop over the Tasman Sea.

Miss Batten, who was moving toward Sydney from Long Beach, New South Wales, hopes to end her flight in Auckland, New Zealand, on Wednesday.

Hundreds Killed By Typhoon and Ravaging Floods

Storm Deals Death in Five Philippine Provinces With 310 Known to Have Perished and Hundreds of Others Missing—New Gale Expected to Strike Central Japan

Thousands of Homes Inundated By Swollen Streams and Rivers

TOKIO, Oct. 13 (AP).—A typhoon, originating in the Bonin Islands, south of Japan, was moving slowly in a north-easterly direction today, and it was feared it might strike the Japanese coast tonight. Believing the storm might sweep over central Japan, the Government warned all shipping.

The 1,778-ton Japanese freighter Manyei Maru, with a crew of thirty-four, was stranded in a dangerous position near Shimizu, a city west of Yokohama and southwest of Tokio. High seas made a rescue almost impossible for the present.

IS WELCOMED TO CANBERRA

Hon. R. B. Bennett Urges Development in Australia of National Consciousness

CANBERRA, Australia, Oct. 12 (AP).—Hon. R. B. Bennett, Canadian Conservative leader, today urged the development in Australia of a national consciousness which would overcome state divisions.

Concluding a two weeks' tour of New South Wales and Queensland, Mr. Bennett arrived in Canberra yesterday to be the guest of Sir Alexander Hore-Ruthven, Governor-General of Australia.

Mr. Bennett said in an interview he was extremely impressed with the development of the commonwealth capital, as it indicated progress towards attainment of a national ideal.

NATIONAL CONSCIOUSNESS
"I cannot overemphasize the necessity of cultivating a national consciousness," the former Canadian Prime Minister said. "We have done much in Canada towards overcoming state divisions. You have the opportunity and the need for reciprocal trade. Canada was earnestly endeavoring to buy more goods from Australia and also to sell more to the Commonwealth."

Mr. Bennett said he was sorry to see evidence in Australia of a misunderstanding of Canada's desire for reciprocal trade. Canada was earnestly endeavoring to buy more goods from Australia and also to sell more to the Commonwealth.

Mr. Bennett, making a leisurely tour of the Empire, toured the Australian capital today with Premier Minister Patterson. He later attended an official banquet at Government House attended by Premier Lyons and members of his Government.

CAREER COMES TO SUDDEN END

Dr. J. P. Babcock, International Fisheries Authority, Dies in Hospital

Dr. John Pease Babcock, international authority on fisheries and consultant to the British Columbia Government in that capacity, passed away with tragic suddenness in his eighty-second year at St. Joseph's Hospital at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Complaining of feeling unwell, he was advised by Dr. H. E. Ridewood to enter the hospital, and death followed from heart trouble within an hour.

Born in St. Paul, Minn., on June 11, 1855, Dr. Babcock evinced an interest in the habits of fish at an early age, and before he reached manhood had accumulated a store of knowledge that later was to assist him in his career.

Sudden Gale Brings Destruction Within Cowichan District

Blaze Fanned Into Fury on Lake Road Destroys Five Homes—Duncan Provincial Police Do Fine Work Salvaging Property

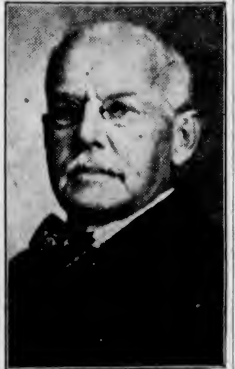

DUNCAN, Oct. 12.—A sixty-mile gale which sprang up suddenly shortly after 6 o'clock on Saturday night, fanned into a fierce blaze a fire which spread over the logging slash of the Export Logging Company on the Cowichan Lake Road, five miles from Duncan, destroyed five homes in its course and spilled ashes all over the city. The heat from the fire was plainly felt in the town.

Houses occupied by J. Sheepwash, J. O'Rourke, James Moore, B. Neilson and W. H. Prowse, Government surveyor, went up in smoke, together with most of the contents.

GOOD POLICE WORK
All the residents of the little logging colony were absent when the fire sprang up, but the Duncan detachment of Provincial Police, headed by Corporal G. A. Johnson, were early on the ground and did fine work in saving a little furniture, and were extremely fortunate in saving tools, maps and records used in connection with the highway construction contract being carried out by the Taylor Construction Company in the immediate vicinity.

A garage used by this company was destroyed, together with a quantity of gasoline and stores.

Traffic on the Cowichan Lake Highway was entirely suspended for several hours.

DR. JOHN PEASE BABCOCK

FORMER deputy commissioner of fisheries for the Provincial Government, who passed away yesterday. Dr. Babcock was an international authority on fisheries problems of thirty years' standing.

BRINGING BODY OUT FROM BUSH

Invest. Shows American Publisher Died of Heart Attack on Hunting Trip

MCCBRIDE, B.C., Oct. 12 (AP).—The body of Oscar Foellinger, fifty-one-year-old president and general manager of The Fort Wayne News-Sentinel, who died on a hunting expedition near here, was en route back to Indiana today. The body was sent to Jagger, Alta., and from there will be shipped to Fort Wayne.

Foellinger died last Thursday while walking with a companion, Robert Klehn, along a portage about fifty miles up Torpy River from Dome Creek, B.C.

Evidence at an inquest held here Saturday night showed that the publisher and Indiana manager for President Hoover in 1928 died of a heart attack. It was about 4 p.m. last Thursday when he was stricken. His companion heard him cry out and then saw him drop dead. The body was brought here by Klehn and a guide.

SERIAL TO BE FILMED HERE

K. J. Bishop, Local Producer, Announces Work Will Begin End of Month

Filming of fifteen episodes of a radio mystery thriller, entitled "Invisible Ray," will get under way at the Central Films, Ltd., studios at the Willows in the next three or four weeks, Kenneth J. Bishop, the president of the local company, announced yesterday at the Dominion Hotel.

With Mrs. Bishop and their daughter, Mr. Bishop returned to the city Sunday from Hollywood, where the local producer received praise for the high standard of pictures made in Victoria, the latest being "Why Let 'Em Live," starring Lyle Talbot, and which is being released under the title "Vengeance."

No decision has yet been made as to which of the Hollywood actors and actresses will be used in the serial, Mr. Bishop said. A copy of the script has been placed in the hands of Reginald Winks, casting director for Central Films, Ltd., who is studying it with a view to placing Victoria actors in the various subordinate roles.

Just how long the fifteen episodes will take to film, Mr. Bishop is not certain. Much of it will be "shot" inside. Mr. Bishop's technical crew of former productions will return to the city for "Invisible Ray."

Three Killed at Level Crossing

MELVILLE, Sask., Oct. 12 (AP).—Three men are dead as the result of a level crossing crash on Sunday at Yarrow, thirty-three miles east of here, when a westbound Canadian National Railway passenger train crashed into an automobile.

Joseph Bubnick and Jim Lish-nook were killed instantly and John Krowchuk was fatally injured. Krowchuk was placed in the baggage car of the train and brought to hospital in this town ninety miles northeast of Regina, but died today.

Complete Range of New Radios Shown During Radio Week

Dealers Have Prepared Comprehensive Displays That Include Entire 1937 Offering in the Radio Field—Improved Broadcast Facilities Are Added to Higher Standard of Perfection

RADIO fans throughout Victoria will today be able to take the opportunity of seeing and hearing the new 1937 radio models as presented by Victoria radio dealers during Radio Show Week. This special week has been inaugurated in the city in order that the startling new developments introduced by radio engineers may reach the public in the form of a special event. Every radio store in Victoria has a special display, and the public is cordially invited to attend. Radio Week will continue until October 17.

The major feature of Radio Week is the sensational development of short-wave reception. During the two years since short wave was first introduced to the general public, it has made amazing advance. During this period it has leapt from the experimental stage to an accepted part of home radio entertainment. The most sanguine enthusiast could hardly have predicted such a sudden widening in the scope of domestic reception, for, in addition to the acknowledged advance in standard-wave reception, short wave is now a vital part of the programmes looked for and relied upon in thousands of homes.

DEALERS CO-OPERATING
The dealers who are co-operating in Radio Show Week are given here, together with the makes of radios they are displaying in their showrooms.

Sufferer Follows Good Advice—and Takes Kruschen

The writer of the following letter had a bad attack of rheumatism, and was advised to take Kruschen. He did so, and describes his experience in the following words:
"About two years ago I developed a severe attack of rheumatism in my left shoulder blade. I tried all sorts of remedies, but with no results, until one day my brother-in-law, on hearing of my suffering, exclaimed, 'There is only one thing for rheumatism! That is—Kruschen Salt!' I decided to purchase a bottle, and for the first week took one teaspoonful in a glass of hot water each morning. The pain gradually disappeared and has now gone entirely. I am still taking my early morning dose, and I feel convinced that it is helping to keep me fit."
—J.G.B.
Rheumatic conditions are frequently the result of an excess of uric acid in the body. Two of the ingredients of Kruschen Salt are notable for their work in dissolving uric acid. Other ingredients of these salts assist nature to expel the dissolved acid from the system. (Advt.)

SMALL—The death occurred suddenly in Royal Jubilee Hospital on Sunday of John Herbert Small, aged five years, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Small, 618 Transit Road. He was born in Victoria and had resided here all his life. He is survived by his parents and one sister, Doreen, at home, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bromley. Funeral services will be conducted this afternoon at 2 o'clock in Sands Mortuary Chapel. The remains will be forwarded to Seattle for cremation.

IMPROVED BROADCASTS
In considering the purchase of a new radio for 1937, it must be borne in mind that not only are the actual receiving sets vastly improved, bringing a new high standard in tone and performance, but that year after year increased broadcasting facilities and better programmes put over the air. This is especially true in the case of short wave, for European countries recognize that in North America they have the largest audience and the vast proportion of short-wave programmes are broadcast in English, with the preferences of the Canadian and American listeners in mind.

THANKSGIVING OBSERVED HERE

Varied Programmes Are Enjoyed by Victorians Over Week-End Holiday

Thanksgiving Day, despite intermittent showers, was quietly and traditionally observed in Victoria with services of praise and thanksgiving, sports and dancing at night. The week-end was free from accidents.

Overcast for the most part, the sun broke through for only a few minutes in the morning.

Hundreds of Victorians attended the United Community Thanksgiving Day service at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church yesterday morning, under the auspices of the Victoria Ministerial Association. Rev. Dr. Andrew D. Reid, Centennial United Church, gave the address. Services in the Christian Science Church also drew a large congregation.

SPORTS PROGRAMME
Features of the sports programme were three football games at the Royal Athletic Park, which attracted 400 fans, and the motorcycle hill climb at Mount Douglas, witnessed by some 600 persons. For several hours in the afternoon Victoria was visited by 600 excursionists from Vancouver.

As usual on the long-week-end holidays, hundreds of persons vacated the city for the broad highways, visited Summer homes or made journeys to Up-Island points for fishing and other forms of wholesome entertainment.

A number of those remaining in the city found pleasure in the parks and enjoyed the Autumn scenery along the waterfront. Thanksgiving services and harvest festivals were held in most of the city churches on Sunday and large congregations were reported.

AUTONOMY AND SAFETY

About all that Mr. Mackenzie King did at Geneva was to reiterate his stand on Canadian autonomy. No one denies it. In fact it is a platitude. Mr. King invariably harps in the one strain, more particularly when he is at international gatherings. It could be premised, without any doubt, that the Prime Minister would reiterate and reiterate the supremacy of the Canadian Parliament with a continuous proclamation of the fact that it is a law unto itself. No one denies it; but Mr. Mackenzie King is nothing if not insistent that this fact must be recognized at Geneva and everywhere else.

It has been the same through the years. When troops were sent to South Africa during the Boer War, Mr. Bourassa, in the House of Commons, said that they were sent by order of Great Britain. Sir Wilfrid Laurier answered, no, that they were sent by the desire of Canada. There is never anything but a desire to show that this country is autonomous. It is all very silly, because public opinion rules in matters of this kind. Canada sent troops to South Africa because troops wanted to go. Canada sent troops to the Great War because public opinion decreed that they should go. Canada will send troops to any future war in which the British Empire is engaged, not because of autonomous leanings, but because a public opinion decrees it so, and because the troops want to go.

The principle of self-rule is an excellent thing in theory. In practice it is a question of the call of the blood. The cry of self-rule is mainly political; it fades into insignificance in the face of a patriotic appeal. Whenever Great Britain is threatened, Canada is too, and there is never the slightest doubt that this country will respond. All repeated pronouncements about Canadian autonomy are so much camouflage. This country governs itself. There is no doubt about that. What there is doubt about is that Parliament has anything whatever to do with the sentiment of the people when there is a threat to the well-being of the British Empire. Mr. Mackenzie King gathers no laurels by his repeated pronouncements about Canadian autonomy. That autonomy is welded indissolubly with the welfare of the British Empire.

THE FUTURE OF GOLD

Great Britain returned to the gold standard in 1925, only to be forced off gold in 1931. Cassel, the Swedish economist, has written a treatise upon the subject which is intended to show that a return to gold as a standard is very unlikely. His ideas are vigorously set forth and have attracted much attention. He begins with a brief account of the history of the international gold standard and then gives his reasons for believing that its downfall is practically certain. Constructed by Great Britain after the Napoleonic Wars, it became an international system after the Franco-German struggle in the beginning of the seventies, was fairly universal by the end of the century, collapsed badly in 1914, and since that date, in spite of strenuous efforts to restore it, it has failed to recover.

In theory, he says, the gold standard was simple and its operation automatic. An undue rise of prices in one country meant an unfavorable balance of trade. The country would presently suffer a drain of gold, and a pressure upon the price levels sufficient to restore the old price equilibrium would follow. An unduly large import of gold, on the other hand, would mean a rise of prices which would tend to counteract the import of gold. In actual practice, however, although the system operated pretty effectively along the general line indicated by the theory, there were factors at work which disturbed the smooth functioning of the gold standard machinery. Bank policy was one of these factors.

Bankers think it desirable, in the interest of greater security, to accumulate larger reserves of gold than the minimum required by law, partly because large reserves of gold impart a feeling of greater security, and partly because central banks naturally wish to be in a position to import or to export gold in accordance with domestic currency requirements, requirements that vary with seasonal needs and with fluctuations of trade. These needs must be met by variations in the note issue, as far as this can be done without endangering the gold parity of the currency.

Another feature is of a political nature. If a creditor country desires to do so, it can accumulate great stocks of gold, out of all proportion to its actual monetary needs. It may do this readily enough by the operation of a high tariff which presents an effective barrier to the import of goods and demands gold instead in settlement of foreign trade. The possession of great stocks of gold—those accumulated recently by France and the United States are examples—has more than once enabled one country to exercise undue influence of a political nature upon another. A monetary system whose operation can be modified by the action of central banks or by political action can hardly be called automatic.

Does gold provide a stable standard of value? A standard is a measure, of weight, or level, and if gold is the standard by which the value of a currency is to be measured, the assumption is that the value of gold is stable. Now, it is reasonable to suppose that as the real concrete wealth of the world grows, there should be a similar proportionate increase in the supply of the metal adopted as the standard. Statistics show that from 1850 until about twenty years ago the Western World grew in real wealth at the rate of 3 per cent annually, and during the same period the total monetary stock of gold increased at the average rate of 3 per cent. It must be remembered, however, that while 3 per cent was the normal gold supply rate, and while the value of gold was practically the same at the end of the period as it was at the beginning, the actual annual production of gold was sometimes above and sometimes below normal. There were great variations in the price level during the period. Moreover, since 1916 the annual production of gold has fallen off. Early in the twenties it fell to 2 per cent, that is to say it was only two-thirds of the "normal" figure. Thus the value of gold has varied in the past, and the future holds promise of further variation.

In Cassel's opinion, the gold standard worked well only as long as Great Britain was the world's financial clearing house and carried on a free trade policy. As the greatest creditor country in the world she was willing to export capital and abstained from accumulating an unnecessary amount of gold. If the United States when, after the Great War, it became a greater creditor country, had lowered its tariff and abstained from accumulating gold, the great depression might have been averted. The American war debts policy proved a factor of immense importance in rendering a continuance of the gold standard system extremely difficult, if not impossible.

PEACE IN OUR TIME

No one would describe The London Spectator as being reactionary or accuse it of displaying a narrow spirit in the discussion of political questions. It is, in fact, a middle-of-the-road publication with a tendency to sever to the left rather than to the right. Coming from The Spectator, therefore, a severe condemnation of Sir Stafford Cripps' new book entitled "The Struggle for Peace" is all the more impressive. It is significant, indeed, that this acknowledged leader of the Radical Socialists of Great Britain can apparently achieve nothing better in what ought to be a constructive effort of calm reasoning than to pack his book "from the first sentence to the last page" with the hackneyed, threadbare overworked commonplaces made familiar to us by the parrot-like repetition of the Socialist spellbinders.

When Sir Stafford comes to grips with the problem of peace he has, apparently, only one suggestion to offer. It is that peace can be achieved between one country and another only when both of them have arrived at the status of Socialist communities. If this is to be taken as the authentic Socialist doctrine, namely that there can be no peace except between Socialist States, it is impossible until every country has been converted to the Socialist creed, the friends of that school of thought, here and elsewhere, must be looking forward with eagerness to a long and dreadful series of destructive international conflicts. If so, their intention is simply to make a desolation and call it peace.

The problem which the enlightened statesmen of today are trying to solve is how to persuade the people of the various countries of the world to live and let live, and to regulate their external relations amicably, however much they may differ in their constitutional methods of managing their internal affairs. The prospect which this militant Socialist presents to us is a fight to a finish between Socialist countries and all others, ending, of course, with Socialist victories everywhere; but this prospect, horrible and hateful as it is, has yet another horror to follow. The good Sir Stafford fears that, even after the Socialists have conquered all the others, it will still be necessary to maintain national forces locally to prevent the accused capitalists from winning back their freedom. Universal international peace is to be followed by a succession of civil wars.

Dr. William J. Mayo says that if a man has trouble in his joints at any age, he knows it, whereas if his head doesn't work well, everyone else knows it. That may be true from the standpoint of medical science, but it is not true where economic lapses disturb the brain. Almost any economic theorist can persuade a certain number of people that he is right, whereas he may be suffering from cerebral affections.

AT YOUR PERIL

Dr. M. A. Curry, oldest member of the Nova Scotia Medical Society, eighty years of age, but feeling "not a day over fifty," attributes his condition to daily walks of six to eight miles. But in these days, because of the demands of occupation and the auto-crowded condition of the highway, how is a man to find time or opportunity for this prolonged pedestrianism? This applies especially to dwellers in large cities.

Note and Comment

By Anon.

Without quite realizing it, we have become slaves to Time. On the rim of the world and in remote jungles they still speak of events that came to pass "seven moons ago" or places that may be reached on foot within "two sunsets." It is not so with us.

Whistles, time-guns, clocks, watches, billboards, newspapers, and circulars thunder the time at us daily. The time at which school children must appear washed and dressed at school. The time when factories open. The time when Saturday ends and Sunday begins. The time of a wedding, a christening, or a funeral. Time is the master.

On the cycle track and the sports ground we have got it down to seconds and divisions of a second. Indeed, there we no longer trust our eyes or our ears, for we photograph the finish of important races by automatic camera devices. Twofifths of a second changes a world's title. One-hundredth part of a second decides whether this entry won, or that.

Our very language is timed and metered out to us. Our automobiles do a measured number of miles per hour. Our trains speed along through polished rails at this or that rate of speed, while they follow the sun across the continent in twenty-four-hour time. Boats will dock at 1 p.m., with advance notice to shore officials to be ready.

The breakfast club meets at 7:30 a.m., albeit sleepily. The luncheon club checks its business hat at 12:10 p.m. precisely. The first course is served at 12:12 p.m. The second at 12:24 p.m. The chairman makes a few introductory remarks at 12:35 p.m. The main speaker clears his throat the first time at 1 p.m. promptly, and for the last time at 1:57 p.m. The applause takes thirty seconds. The dinner meeting has a different schedule, but it is portioned out in hours, minutes, and sometimes even seconds.

Doctors do not say so, but one is free to suspect that if here and there a man or so were affected for a few weeks by the strange and refreshing malady that affected Rip Van Winkle, such men would benefit much from their rest. It is not entirely a matter of sleep, but of a rest for the powers of attention.

Even in our recreation we measure out the minutes, the number of strokes to a green, the time it took to go round this course, or that. We "have time for a game" of tennis, of bridge, of billiards, of ping-pong, but never for chess. Bless you, we would need hours for that, and where are the hours?

Yet people who play chess teach themselves useful and worthwhile lessons. The doctor, the radio announcer, the dentist, the hairdresser, the car salesman, the insurance agent and a host of other busy people have appointment books. There the hours, the minutes and the seconds are fully measured off, cut into precise dimensions, and all allotted to the public without one slender minute being lost. Time is precious. Time is money. Time is opportunity. There must be no short-weight with Time.

And what does it all amount to? Where are we going so fast, and so continuously that we must have time-guns to be a stop-and-go sign for our very thoughts? Six to eight hundreds of millions of years had rolled over this old world before that queer erratic biped, with carnivorous habits and now redundant feet learned to clock the sun and call himself Man. Only a Mayfly on the face of Time. A worrying, discontented, quarrelsome Mayfly would seem an absurdity!

But, says Man, Time is important. We must bow down to Time. The day is not long enough. We must have light far into the night. We will not get up with the sun and go to bed with the moon. We shall get up when we please, and turn the light on after our natural lamp has fled. Better, bigger lamps. Nearer, smoother and more enduring motors. Cameras to catch the thousandth part of one second. Hurry, we must catch up to Time itself!

So it goes, until the motor in the human engine wears itself quite out; until the second-hand of the heart is stilled. Time goes on! "Shellfish multiply rapidly." Crabs have lots of nippers.

'Yukon Yesterdays'

(Reviewed by Vernon Timmerman)

Gold! The rich strike which precipitated the great Klondike gold rush was made by an Indian woman. Flour at $2 per pound, candles at $1 each, champagne at $60 per quart, beef at $3.50 per pound, eggs at $1 each, sugar at $1 per pound, $140 for 100 pounds of sluice nails. "Wild excitement, misery, riches, debauchery, broken hearts, scurvy, frostbite, suicide; the midnight sun, the Arctic night, the Aurora Borealis, the lead of gold and paradoxes—that was Dawson in '96."

In "Yukon Yesterdays" the author, Major Nevill A. D. Armstrong, sketches a vivid and interesting picture of the exciting and adventurous times during the mad and heart-breaking years of the scramble for wealth in the goldfields of the Yukon. Although the sub-title of this book reads: "Thirty Years of Adventure in the Klondike," it would be as well to take the statement with a pinch of gold dust. The main part of the book deals with reminiscences of the gold rush and a prospecting trip made up the Macmillan River in 1905-06 and the hardships experienced during the "great cold" of that winter.

Major Armstrong was only twenty years of age when he was sent out from England as assistant manager of the Yukon Goldfields Co., Ltd., to buy and develop gold properties for his company. He was the first Englishman to go to Dawson by all-water route, via New York to San Francisco, and up the Pacific Coast to Southwest Alaska and into the Bering Sea to the mouth of the Yukon River. The balance of the journey, one thousand seven hundred miles, on a shallow-draft stern-wheeled steamer, took twenty-two days.

A TYPHOID EPIDEMIC

On landing in Dawson in July they found themselves in the midst of a typhoid epidemic which was claiming some 120 victims by death each week. Thousands were arriving by boat and trail and many of the newcomers were turned back by the threat of typhoid, shortage and consequent high prices of food and rumors that the whole country had been stricken. The author lost no time in meeting someone of experience who could be of use to him in getting his bearings. He was fortunate in meeting George Carman, the discoverer of the Klondike goldfields. It was from Carman, who was part owner with the late Tex Rickard, afterwards manager of Madison Square Garden, New York, that the author bought No. 4 Below Discovery on Bonanza Creek.

Major Armstrong points out that Seattle captured most of the business in equipment and provisions bought by prospectors heading for the Yukon by dint of booting. Victoria and Vancouver missed the big chance. Each prospector had to have about one and one-half tons of food to last over a year. "The Skagway trail was in places crowded with the carcasses of dead horses. For many years after the great rush, when a railroad was operating, passengers could still look out of the train windows and see the old trail marked by bleached bones."

Some idea is given of Dawson in the boom days—its saloons, gambling tables, public women and the many kinds of men who congregated in this weird mushroom city. The author gives several instances of rich strikes he made for his company and his descriptions of the properties which he worked are interesting to miner and layman alike. Among the many interesting illustrations in the book is one of the largest gold nuggets found on Bonanza Creek. It weighed sixty-four and a quarter ounces and was discovered by the author. He was offered $2,000 for it, but refused to sell. It was spotted as a specimen when the bar caught fire, but he received $1,500 for it.

RODICKER CREEK CLAIM

The author tells a very interesting story about the Rodicker Creek claim near Yale, B.C. The richness of this claim is known to mining men in this part of the country, but to this day nobody has found the vein discovered years ago by the Allen brothers. The author was living at the time on his ranch at Shawanigan Lake. During the Cariboo gold rush in the '60s hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of gold dust and nuggets had been dredged and mined out of the bed of the Fraser River itself and in near Yale. The Allen brothers showed the author what they had found at Rodicker Creek. "There were two large amalgam balls, about the size of tennis balls, of gold dust, masses of coarse gold in thin slabs like the blades of a pocket knife, also many pieces of oxidized quartz, literally held together with free gold. It was a wonderful sight—the estimated value of all these specimens was in the neighborhood of $3,000."

After some difficulty the author, his friend and the Allen brothers arrived on the property. "We beheld six feet of an exposed quartz vein in black slate as already related to us. . . . In one spot where the vein widened out to six inches I found an immensely rich spot—masses of gold in thin streaks which could be levered out with a strong pocket knife. L. D. and I could hardly tear ourselves away from this jeweler's shop." The author took an option on the property which afterwards turned out to be owned by two men in Vancouver. The deal fell through as the real owners asked $300,000 for the property and the author refused. Major Armstrong is the only living man who could find the vein, the others, with the exception of L. D., being dead.

This is an altogether interesting book. It covers the highlights of one of the most romantic periods in the history of the North. Runamity in light and shadow cross its pages and there is scarcely a dull page in the book. It should be of special interest to readers living in this part of the world, as most of the happenings related are still alive in the memories of a great number of people.

Winter Coming

Frantic people who call a spade a spade are now calling it a snow shovel. Overheard outside The Colonist office: First man: "I've never had the pleasure of meeting your wife." Second man: "What makes you think it would be a pleasure?" Ouch! . . . A local business man told us his youthful ambition was to be a fireman, but he failed to master the game of checkers. We were always taught English was the most widely spoken language, but Chinese is believed to pre-dominate because of the republic's vast population.

George Jean Nathan's definition of a gentleman: "Any man, humble or exalted in station, rich or poor in the world's goods, novel or manner, white or black, who alone is mindful of personal integrity, honor, tolerance, justice and the limits of his intellectual capacity." Reports show 73 per cent, or 16,000 of the persons arrested for law breaking in the United States, the first six months of 1936, were women. A person who thinks the world is too highly civilized should go and watch a wrestling match.—G.B.

Getting Too Chilly?

Reports from Russia state the people are desirous of securing white collar jobs—probably the result of too many of them shaving off their whiskers.—W.T.P.

You Never Can Tell

Recalling many stories of inventions that, while netting their inventors large rewards were never placed on the market, we are wondering whether we will hear anything more of a British Columbia's invention for gasoline that is credited with running a light car 160 miles on one gallon N.A.C.M.

Park in Fine Shape

Visited the Royal Athletic Park Saturday to take in a soccer game, the second of the season, and I was surprised at the splendid condition of the playing field. Never before in the history of this ancient enclosure has the ground been in such perfect condition. As I gazed over the grassy surface I remarked to the park keeper that it would make an ideal spot for me to practice my iron shots in the mornings as it was only a stone's throw from my house. When this ground is fully seeded it will present one of the best football pitches in the province, if not the best, and therefore I want to congratulate Park Keeper Bill Pynn for the fine condition the park is now in and hope that he keeps up the good work in the future.—J.D.

field of aircraft engineering. Similar work is taught, however, in the shipbuilding courses of the engineering department of Kyushu Imperial University and Yokohama College of Engineering.

Part of the present plan is to expand the aircraft engineering course in Tokyo Imperial University and create full courses in the subject at Kyushu Imperial University, Osaka Imperial University, Yokohama College of Engineering, and in other engineering colleges at Nagoya, Hiroshima and Hamamatsu.

At Tokyo Imperial University facilities and the staff would be increased to double the capacity for students, at a cost of 197,000 yen. That estimate has been submitted to the Finance Ministry.

Several related courses in shipbuilding engineering at Kyushu Imperial University would be used as a nucleus for the new school, in which ten students would be accepted every year, beginning in 1938. Expansion costs there are estimated at 600,000 yen, with the annual operation expense put at 80,000 yen. At Kyushu the emphasis would be put on marine aircraft because of the close alliance with the shipbuilding courses. An estimate of 580,000 yen has been submitted.

The ministry has submitted an estimate of 608,000 yen for next year to be used in setting up a new course accommodating twenty students at Yokohama College of Engineering.

Ten students are to be enrolled in the proposed course at Osaka Imperial University for which the estimates are to be submitted soon. Preliminary expenses of 60,000 yen for each of the twenty-student courses at Nagoya, Hiroshima and Hamamatsu also are to be submitted shortly.

Only ten students are admitted to the aircraft course in the engineering department of Tokyo Imperial University. The only full course for training experts in the Cost of creating a comparatively large group of thoroughly specialized technicians is estimated at 4,000,000 yen. The ministry is supposed to file additional estimates soon covering preliminary expenses in setting up the courses, although actual teaching is to begin if the plan is approved in the Spring of 1938. Some of the estimates, totaling 1,343,000 yen, have already been submitted.

Technical competency of the Japanese in assembling and piloting airplanes is on a par with that of other nations, the journal continues, but the rapid development of aviation, both civil and military, has exhausted the supply of graduates of the highest technical courses.

FIRST TIME
IN HISTORYTravelers Not Disturbed on Channel Crossing From Paris to London

LONDON, Oct. 12 (AP).—For the first time in history, travelers slept their way in luxury tonight across the English Channel from Paris to London.

The new $5,000,000 system, eliminating the old necessity of being awakened at unearliest hours for the transfer from train to ship at channel terminal ports, was inaugurated tonight when the first sea-going train left the Nord Station, Paris, at 11:30 p.m., en route to Victoria Station, London, where it will arrive tomorrow morning.

Three new ferries capable of holding twelve sleeping cars will carry the Paris-London trains across the bumpy channel waters, with passengers snug in their berths.

On board the ferries are four tracks for the twelve sleeping cars, accommodations for 500 passengers including those in the train berths, cabins and saloons housing ordinary travelers, and a ship garage accommodating twenty-five motorcars.

Extra fare of about $10 is charged for the sleeper on the London-Paris Express, which will run nightly in each direction.

LOOKING TO
WASHINGTONNegotiators Adjourn Again
—Made Progress in Several Minor Issues

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12 (AP).—Shipowners and union leaders adjourned another negotiations session today, still looking to United States Federal officials in Washington to help keep the waterfront tranquil after the truce deadline Thursday.

Both groups reported little progress today, except on minor issues. Tentative agreements were reached on discussions involving a safety code and on penalty cargo.

The truce period expires at midnight Thursday unless another extension is given by the shipowners or the International Longshoremen's Association agrees to arbitration of unsettled issues.

Edward McCurdy, assistant secretary of labor, said an extension might result if the groups agreed on even one of the fundamental issues which include control of hiring halls, union hours and penalties. A slight hope for agreement on one of the four major issues was given by H. P. McInnis, adviser to the I.L.A., who said the association "might" agree to arbitration of the question of wages.

NEW VESSEL
WELL NAMEDHolland America Line Takes Nieuw Amsterdam From
5,000 Suggestions

The fifteen successful prize winners who submitted suggestions for naming the new luxury liner Ss. Nieuw Amsterdam were announced recently by the Holland America Line. Approximately 5,000 suggestions were submitted.

Entries were judged by the appropriateness of the name submitted, the exactness of the explanation, neatness of presentation and promptness in forwarding the entry blanks. First prize, $250, was won by Mrs. Virginia Castelle, Baltimore.

NIUW AMSTERDAM
The name Nieuw Amsterdam was chosen by the committee of judges because it revives and perpetuates the memory of the famous colony established by the Dutch, which has since expanded into the world-renowned metropolis—New York.

When completed, this new ship, 731 feet long, 33,000 tons gross register, and costing $15,000,000, will contain the most modern improvements yet devised by naval architects for the comfort of trans-Atlantic and cruise passengers. While the Nieuw Amsterdam has, of course, been designed primarily for trans-Atlantic service, she will contain unusual air conditioning features that will make her an ideal ship for cruising, particularly in tropical waters.

TO BE MODERNISTIC
A number of the leading European and American modernist decorators have been retained for the purpose of introducing startlingly fresh tones of colors for wall treatment, new textures of fabrics, new woods for furniture. In short, the architects aim to achieve, in spacious dimensions and by the introduction of many space-saving inventions, a 1930 effect.

The Holland America Line management announces that on her maiden voyage, in the Spring of 1938, the Ss. Nieuw Amsterdam will take her place as flagship of the "Spacious Fleet." Many old clients of the line have already applied for reservations for the maiden voyage.

MAKE PEACE WITH FORCE

Alsace-Lorraine Quiet After Many Outbursts of Party Hostility

PARIS, Oct. 13 (AP).—Mobile guards enforced peace in Alsace-Lorraine today, as the Government took stock of its position after repeated flare-ups of Communist-Rightist hostility.
Premier Leon Blum summoned his Popular Front Cabinet, to confer on Wednesday with President Albert Lebrun on the issues it faces, as a result of the political heat which continues to smoulder.

What the issues portend for the Blum coalition of Socialists, Radicals, Socialists and Communists occupied the attention of all factions.

PONDER INTIMATION

They pondered, particularly, the significance behind the intimation of Camille Chautemps, Minister of State and leader of the Radical Socialists, that the coalition might collapse.

Although he reiterated his support of the Popular Front, Chautemps declared "the only honorable course would be to submit the differences to the people in the form of a new election," if it should dissolve.

TIME FOR ACTION

Colonel Francois de la Rocque, leader of the Social party, which opponents label Fascist, declared the Popular Front Government "has given signs of breaking up," and told followers at Valenciennes "the moment has come for members of the French Social party to go into action."

Premier Blum was censured for interceding to curtail the programme of Communist rallies in Alsace-Lorraine, but Maurice Thorez, Communist party leader, reaffirmed his support of the Popular Front Government.

TO TAKE OFF AT SYDNEY

German Planes to Make an Ocean Test Flight From Nova Scotia

SYDNEY, N.S., Oct. 12 (AP).—Arrival of the German flying boat, the Aolus, was awaited here tonight as officials of Lufthansa Airlines drafted plans to launch the ten-ton ship on a trans-Atlantic flight from the catapult of the company's mother ship, the Schwanenland.

The Aolus is scheduled to hop off tomorrow from Port Washington, N.Y., where it completed a series of trans-Atlantic flights, and from the Azores last week, for Sydney. Within twenty-four hours it will be followed by a sister ship, the Zephir, in preparation for another experimental trans-Atlantic flight.

The Aolus is to fly to Horte in the Azores, Capt. Alfred Kotia, of the Schwanenland, said today after the transformed freighter dropped anchor in Sydney harbor. If permission is granted by Irish Free State authorities, the Zephir would fly to Galway, he said, but otherwise she would go to the Azores also.

PROTEST TO MOSCOW

TOKIO, Oct. 12 (AP).—The Japanese Government protested to Moscow today over two new clashes between Russian and Manchukuan troops in the Northern Korean border.

Four Manchukuan soldiers were killed and five wounded in the clashes, which were said to have occurred yesterday near Chienao. (Both sides rushed strong reinforcements, the Reuters news agency reported, and had troops ranged along the frontier at some points only 400 yards apart.)

FACED WITH CRISIS

Premier Koki Hirota was faced with a crisis at home over the army's demands for revision of the Government, which, some observers feared, might be pushed forcibly enough to result in resignations from the Cabinet.

Well-informed persons foresee the possibility of a struggle between military leaders and civil factions in the Government.

TWO KILLED IN CRASH

Strikers and Strikebreakers Clash

Scores of strikebreakers who had been kept under police guard in sheds, were taken to Salinas, Cal., on a Saturday night for relaxation. They got all the fun they wanted when lettuce workers, who have been on strike for weeks, met the playboys, and before the session was over, police riot squads were called to all parts of the city. Above is an action scene of the fighting in downtown Salinas.

MAY RESIDE IN VICTORIA

Hon. W. L. Walsh, Former Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta, Visiting City

HON. W. L. WALSH

Hon. W. L. Walsh, recently retired Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta, and Mrs. Walsh hope to make their home in Victoria next Spring, the former said yesterday at the Empress Hotel, shortly after their arrival here.

Mr. and Mrs. Walsh will stay in Victoria "as long as the weather keeps good," then they will go to California for the winter, later traveling to Bermuda and thence to Edmonton.

On October 1, Mr. Walsh relinquished his honored position to Col. the Hon. P. C. H. Primrose. Last night he said in answer to questions that he was not at all displeased after becoming a private citizen again. He spoke of Colonel Primrose as a "very suitable man" for the post.

FAITH IN ALBERTA

Faith in Alberta's future was expressed by Mr. Walsh. He said he foresaw the provincial oil fields leading the way to a mighty industry for Alberta. About the Government administration he had nothing to say.

British Columbia, too, will prosper, in the visitor's opinion. Mr. Walsh knows this province and has many friends throughout British Columbia.

Mr. Walsh was appointed Lieutenant-Governor in 1931. His selection being heralded as one of the most popular ever made.

The Great Distinction between Electrolysis and all other treatments for the removal of superfluous hair is that it is absolutely sure, and permanently destroys the hair instead of temporarily removing it from the surface; and the pain is just the ordinary stinging sensation peculiar to all electrical treatments, so truly there is nothing to be afraid of—not even the cost. Nearly 5,000,000 Cars Visit Canada

MONTREAL, Oct. 12 (AP).—Nearly 5,000,000 foreign motor cars, providing the major portion of Canada's tourist revenues, visited the Dominion during the eighteen months ended June 30, 1936. It was shown today in a report issued by Royal Bank of Canada.

The figures were based on the number of cars remaining in Canada more than forty-eight hours.

CONFISCATION NOT PROPOSED

Alberta Minister Says False
Rumors to Blame for Flight of Capital

EDMONTON, Oct. 12 (AP).—Any flight of capital or transference of bank deposits from Alberta would be the result of circulation of "rumors" by Social Credit enemies and not because of any action of the Provincial Government. Provincial Secretary E. C. Manning said today in an address at the Edmonton Prophetic Bible Conference.

Attacking those who circulated such reports, Mr. Manning denied the Government proposed to confiscate bank deposits or securities. He stated the Government had always emphasized it was opposed to confiscation in any form. It did not propose to take anything from the "haves" and give it to the "have nots."

"No faults of government" are leaving the province, it is not because of any action or any statement of the Government, as we have constantly said we had no thought of confiscation," he asserted. "We have constantly stated in and out of the Legislature and have indicated in our legislation that we wanted to save the principle, although we were cutting in."

"Any action being taken in circulating the rumor and causing any flight of capital, must be from false contentions and Social Credit enemies."

NO REPUTATION

Aim of the red-reducing legislation recently enacted by the Government, the Provincial Secretary declared, was that the principle should be safeguarded so there would be no repudiation of principle in any shape or form.

He contended the "volume and variety of our correspondence this week is further proof the Social Credit programme in Alberta has done more in one year to free democracy of the dry rot of indifference than any other issue of public interest since the inception of the province."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go
The liver should pour out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily. If the bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Get bile up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body and you feel sour, sick and the world looks black.
A more bowel movement doesn't always get attention. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of nature but have no harmful or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stoolbury's relief any time you feel sick.

WAS NOTED BIOLOGIST

Prof. E. E. Prince, World-
Renowned Marine Scientist,
Dead at Ottawa

OTTAWA, Oct. 12 (AP).—Professor Edward Ernest Prince, internationally-renowned marine biologist and Canada's Commissioner of Fisheries, died here Tuesday. His death on Saturday at the age of seventy-eight ended a fifty-year scientific career that had few equals in the world.

Professor Prince, a native of Leeds, England, had made an enviable reputation for himself in the United Kingdom through his researches in food and bait fisheries before the Dominion Government brought him to Canada in 1892 to occupy the position he held for the next thirty-three years. He retired eleven years ago.

MONUMENTAL RESEARCHES

His monumental researches into Canada's fisheries carried him all over the country from the Bay of Fundy to the Pacific, and northward. One of his last field trips took him into Lesser Slave Lake and the Peace River country.

He was chairman of fifteen fisheries commissions, including those on salmon, lobster, oyster, shad, those of the Great Lakes and Northwest waters. He was Canada's representative on the International Fisheries Commission under the British-American Treaty of 1908, on which he surveyed with the noted Dr. David Starr Jordan all the boundary waters from the Atlantic to the Pacific. In 1911 he was Canada's delegate to the Rome Fisheries Congress.

AIDED NEW ZEALAND

The New Zealand Government invited him in 1914 to make a survey of the South Sea fisheries, results of which were published as the first report ever made to the Government of the Southern Dominion on its sea and inland fisheries.

As chairman of Canada's Biological Board from 1909 to 1921 Professor Prince brought his great knowledge to bear on creation of many laws regulating the fishing industry. He was chairman of the Arctic expedition committee which brought out the expedition and seventy reports on biology of the polar seas. In addition the list of papers he has published contains more than 150 titles.

ACTION IS TAKEN TO STABILIZE EXCHANGE

A list of nations adhering to the "new gold standard" will be published daily by the United States Treasury.

Few United States businessmen will be directly affected by the new system, Morganthau said.

Under the new arrangement private exports of gold are abolished, and the United States Government will export only to those nations adhering to the agreement. Bullion still may be imported from any source, but must be transferred to the Government as soon as it enters this country.

OF WIDE IMPORTANCE

Indirect effects of the revised gold standard will be highly important, Morganthau said, to every business man buying or selling abroad.

Ration between the pound, the United States dollar and the franc will be determined from day to day by the normal flow of international commercial transactions, Morganthau said. Although no great fluctuation is expected, the rates will remain flexible until a final stabilization is achieved.

The Government reserves the power to change its quoted gold price on twenty-four hours' notice, but Morganthau indicated such action would be resorted to only in an extreme and unexpected situation.

LONDON ANNOUNCEMENT

LONDON, Oct. 12 (AP).—The Treasury, announcing tonight completion of arrangements for technical cooperation with monetary authorities in the United States, said a new regulation would be published by the United States Secretary of the Treasury, Morganthau, making gold obtainable in the United States in exchange for dollars by any country giving the United States reciprocal facilities.

Officers of Council Are Made Known

A splendid spirit of fellowship and comradeship prevailed at the annual banquet and installation service of the Victoria Girls' Council held at the Y.W.C.A. on Saturday evening. The retiring president, Helen McKinnon, conducted the meeting.

There was a large representative gathering from the nineteen churches linked up with the council representing the United Church of Canada, Presbyterian Church in Canada, Baptist Church and the Free Church of England.

The tables were prettily decorated in autumnal shades, the decorations being in keeping with the season. After the supper hour a jolly sing-song was led by Miss Charlotte Crawford. The annual report was read by Margaret Walker, who gave a glowing account of the activities of the council, showing that progress had been made in promoting C.G.I.T. work in Victoria. Nancy Cameron reported on the successful camp which was held at Glens Lake during the summer. Irma Dakers, who was a delegate to the Senior Provincial camp at Ocean Park, gave a comprehensive account of the work accomplished by the girls under the able leadership of Miss Anne Fountain. Greetings from Winnie Byers, Great Brave of British Columbia, were read to the gathering.

OFFICIALS NAMED

Miss Margaret Fleming conducted the election of officers, which resulted as follows: Honorary president, Helen McKinnon (Douglas Street Baptist); president, Irma Dakers (Reformed Episcopal); vice-president, Olive French (First United); secretary, Frances Waller (Metropolitan United); treasurer, Elko Kanno (Japanese United); press reporter, Margaret Walker (First United); social convener, Marion Watson (Victoria West United); membership, Nancy Cameron (Presbyterian, Hollywood); programme, Rachel Hull (Emmanuel Baptist); editorials, Margaret Walker (First United).

During the evening Miss Minnie Beveridge, sponsor of the council, made a presentation on behalf of the girls to Miss Margaret Fleming, after four years of faithful service in the council. Tribute was paid to the retiring members of the executive and to Miss Rhoda Craig, the new assistant sponsor. Miss Audrey Nixon paid glowing tribute to the work of Miss Beveridge and thanked her on behalf of the girls for her inspiration and guidance throughout the past two years.

Mrs. W. E. Cushing, general secretary of the Y.W.C.A., was the guest speaker and addressed the girls on the subject of "Windows in the soul." "I will build great windows, measureless windows for my soul." At the close of the address Audrey Nixon moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. Cushing on behalf of the girls and presented her with a lovely corsage bouquet.

INSTALLATION CEREMONY

At the close of the evening the dedication and installation ceremony took place, conducted by Miss Lillian Parfitt, chairman of the C.G.I.T. Leaders' Council. This took the form of an impressive candle-lighting ceremony and the torch was passed on to the new members of the executive.

The evening was brought to a close with the singing of "Take." Campbell River Mrs. Margaret France has left for Rock Bay. Mr. and Mrs. Owen and family went to Shoal Bay this week. Mr. and Mrs. H. Nelson left Wednesday on their vacation.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

A NEW TREATMENT FOR VARI- COSE ULCERS
Some years ago it was discovered that injecting the veins supplying the tissues in the region of a varicose ulcer of the leg would heal the ulcer. This was a great improvement on the old methods of strapping up, wearing an electric stocking and applying various ointments.

However, it was found that there were some varicose ulcers that could not be healed by these methods much to the discouragement of patients and physicians. It would appear that a new form of treatment for this unsightly and disabling condition has been found and Dr. Leslie Saylor, Topka, Kansas, and Dr. Joseph Kovacs, A. Wilbur Durfee and Irving Wright, New York, report the results of this new treatment in The Journal of the American Medical Association.

The formation of varicose ulcers is now generally accepted as being the result of venous stasis (stoppage of the flow of blood in the veins) due to the dilatation of the veins and weakening of the valves in the veins which allow the blood to flow downward instead of upward toward the heart. This produces back pressure and the waterlogging of the tissues. With not enough oxygen in the blood, poor circulation and the accumulation of poisonous wastes, the resistance of the tissues is lowered and any little infection, any slight blow may cause an ulcer which refuses to heal.

Believing that a drug or drugs that would widen or dilate the blood vessels and stimulate the circulation would enable these ulcers to heal, these physicians used acetyl-beta-methylcholine chloride—a standard 0.5 solution. Reinforced asbestos paper is saturated with the 0.5 solution of the drug and wrapped around the foot and leg as high as the knee. The ulcerated part is not covered during treatment until a firm scab has formed over it. After the scab has formed the application may be made directly over healed part also. A multilayer metal plate is placed over the wet asbestos paper and connected to the positive pole of a galvanic machine. The metal plates are never applied over the ulcerated part or area. A large, regular moist pad electrode is used as a dispersive electrode placed under the back and connected with the negative pole. The current is turned on and slowly increased to 20-30 milliamperes. At the end of the treatment it is slowly reduced and turned off. Treatment is given two or three times weekly for from twenty to thirty minutes.

There are local and general reactions from this treatment. Of the twenty-six patients, all of whom had received other treatment ranging from one to thirty-seven years, twenty-three obtained satisfactory results.

Rev. H. L. Dance, of the Columbia Coast Mission, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Willis, Sunset Avenue, during a short stay in Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Sherman, Balboa, California, are staying at the Oakbay Beach Hotel for a few days.

The man replied: "Well, I keep some ducks, and this morning after I had been on the tram for some time I happened to look through the tram window and I saw my ducks waddling alongside. So I had to get off and take them back home. That made me late."

Hollywood's photographers should know Hollywood's stars better than anybody and their prognostications should be more accurate than the average. Every year filmdom's cameramen, who "shoot" the stars from every angle dozens of times a month, pick out stars they believe are headed for the top. This year two Canadian girls were among the first ten to be selected. They are Cecilia Parker, left, native of Port Williams, Ontario, and Rosina Lawrence, right, who, as a girl in Westboro, Ontario, danced to overcome a disability caused by illness in her childhood. Both actresses have been some years in the movie capital.

city and also failed to take the morning boat which arrived here at 3:30 p.m. Instead, he boarded a launch of the Vancouver Harbour Board and made an inspection of the Mainland city's harbor facilities. Meanwhile, Victoria groups, anxious to know if this city will be included on Canada's national airway, and more particularly if the air mail contracts in July next will specify flights between Vancouver and Victoria, spent much time on the long distance telephone in efforts to communicate with Mr. Howe.

Falling this, they sent an urgent request that the minister postpone his departure for the East and visit Victoria today.

In Vancouver, it was learned Mr. Howe had abandoned a plan to fly over passes in the Rocky Mountains and was making arrangements to curtail his visit on the coast.

Later in the day the Victoria Chamber of Commerce was advised by T. M. Bryson, the minister's secretary, that Mr. Howe was returning East immediately and could not come to Victoria. "The wire read:

"Unable to reach Mr. Howe, but learn he is unable to visit Victoria as planes cannot travel, and he has to return East immediately."

Privately, it was learned, Mr. Howe had made some arrangements to take a night train out of Vancouver for the East.

In a final effort to secure a visit from the minister for the discussion threatened to collapse and flood larger areas. The typhoon swept over Luzon for forty hours Friday and Saturday, whirling seaward and then passed over the island again Sunday. Today it was extending its destruction in Isabela Province to the northwest, isolating the province.

A new disturbance was reported moving in the general direction of the islands from a spot approximately 400 miles east of Northern Luzon. Weather forecasters estimated the new typhoon would miss the Philippines but probably would strike Southern Japan.

Damage was least in Juana Eclja Province, within 100 miles of Manila. In the provincial capital of Cabanatuan, which has a population of 15,000, eighty-two bodies were recovered. An official estimate said the toll might mount to 120. Swift flood waters lapped six and seven feet deep at the suburbs of the city.

Also reported severe damage of the neighboring provinces of Tarlac, Zambales and Camarines Norte.

Nothing was heard from isolated Isabela Province.

Men Are Held on Breaking Charge—Holdup and Two Assaults Reported

VANCOUVER, Oct. 12 (AP).—One man was held by police tonight, charged with breaking and entering, and authorities sought others responsible for one holdup and two assaults over the week-end. A number of house burglaries were also reported.

A P. Minichiello reported to police he was "tripped up" by a "bom" gunman armed with a "womonic" and robbed of $8 late Sunday night. Walking home late Sunday Mauno Jokinen told police he was attacked from behind on a street corner by several men who robbed him of $3.50. Jokinen said he remembered retching a certain corner and then woke up cut and bleeding in a lane some hours later. He neither saw nor heard his assailants.

Fred Collins was beaten and robbed of $2 and his hat by three men late Saturday night. One of the men struck him in the face while the other two rifled his pockets and tore his clothing, Collins told police.

Rev. Dr. Andrew D. Reid Delivers Address at Thanks-giving Day Gathering

Gratitude for religious liberty in Canada and for the unfortified border line between this country and the United States was expressed by Rev. Dr. Andrew D. Reid, of Centennial United Church, in the course of a warmly evangelical address at the community Thanksgiving Day service held yesterday morning in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, under the auspices of the Ministerial Association.

Other participants in the service were Rev. Dr. A. S. Ingle, who presided; Rev. Dr. Gerald B. Switzer, who gave the invocation; Very Rev. C. S. Quainton, who read the Scriptures; Rev. James Hood, offering prayer, and Rev. H. P. S. Luitell, pronouncing the Benediction.

Speaking with vivacity and illustrating his points with brief incidents and poetical quotations, Dr. Reid gave a running commentary of the One Hundred and Third Psalm, which was, he said, a thankful review by King David of his own life. "Bless the Lord, O my soul," the speaker commented, implied the existence of an ever-present God and not an unknown cosmic force. Prayer was more than a subjective meditation, it was speaking unto a Divine reality who understands humanity. The thankful spirit was stated to be "the greatest of all virtues." The speaker referred to the numerous occasions on which Jesus gave thanks.

RELIGIOUS LIBERTY

For Canadians it was a cause of special national thanksgiving, according to the speaker, that they lived in a land of religious liberty, as contrasted with the "hobnob of Europe" where it was said that "people are living on nightmare street." Enthusiastic reference was made to the fact of unbroken peace along the border line between Canada and the United States; also to the glorious national outlook, although the speaker stressed the prior importance of spiritual blessings. The attitude of the Psalmist was endorsed, which was of gratitude for the forgiveness of sins; "Who forgiveth all thine iniquities."

Commenting on the phrase in the psalm, "He healeth all thy diseases," Dr. Reid affirmed his belief in divine healing and in the efficacy of prayer for the sick. He believed in making use of all means that God had made available. God was behind, he held, all the therapeutic discoveries of science. God had given chloroform through Simpson and advance in surgery through Lister. Diseases of the soul were an even deeper need and could be cured.

GUIDANCE OF GOD

Satisfaction for the heart hunger of humanity was indicated in the verse of the psalm, "He satisfieth thy mouth with good things." Wesley's hymn was quoted in confirmation, "Thou, O Christ, Art All I Want." The guidance of God through the vicissitudes of life was another truth that was expressed in the Scripture selected. The New Testament counterpart was the statement that "All things work together for good to those who love God." Dr. Reid also aptly recited a verse from a poem of Whittier: "I know not where His islands lift Their fringed palms in air; I only know I cannot drift Beyond His love and care."

There was a good attendance of worshippers and the offering was earmarked for the Sunshine Inn. Mrs. E. Ridgway contributed a vocal solo, with Jesse Longfield presiding at the organ throughout the musical part of the service.

Germany Expresses Favorable Opinion on Proposed Anglo-Russian Pact

LONDON, Oct. 12 (AP).—A spokesman announced today Germany "favours" the proposed Anglo-Russian naval treaty. The announcement was made after Prince Otto von Bismarck, the German charge d'affaires, had called at the Foreign Office. It made Germany the first country to express an opinion on the completely-drafted pact. The contents of the German communication, however, were not disclosed. The treaty, similar to the tripartite accord concluded this year by Great Britain, France and the

SPARKPLUG DEFECTIVE

Explosion on Seattle Launch
Caused Death of One
Through Exposure

SEATTLE, Oct. 12.—Explosion and fire on the twenty-four-foot pleasure cruiser A. J. left one man dead and his wife and another man recuperating today from an hour's exposure in Puget Sound.

The victim, Robert N. Beall, sixty-two, died in the water while his wife and the boat's owner, A. J. Buzard, supported him after the flames drove them overboard off Richmond Beach, a few miles north of Seattle last night.

They had been in the water an hour, Buzard and Mrs. Beall, who had life preservers, holding up Beall, who had none, when the tug, Bermuda, of Everett, reached them. All three were pulled aboard, Beall lifeless and the other two suffering severely from the cold water.

"We'd been in the water about half an hour holding up Beall when he started weakening," Buzard told coroner's deputies. "Beall had swallowed some water. He finally said: 'I can't hold out any longer,' and he gave up."

Buzard blamed a defective sparkplug for the explosion and ensuing fire which took place while they were bound for a salmon fishing ground.

Their plight was first noticed by residents of Richmond Beach who saw the flaming cruiser off shore. A coast guard picket boat sped from Seattle, but the Bermuda effected the rescue before the coast guardsmen could arrive.

Young People in Convention
Hear Admonition From Victoria Minister

NANAIMO, Oct. 12.—Having heard an admonition that religion should be practised more in the home, to guide their future courses, delegates from all parts of British Columbia wound up the three-day sixth annual provincial conference of the Anglican Young People's Association here today.

The theme was advanced by Rev. E. O. Robathan of Christ Church Cathedral, Victoria.

HOME OF TODAY
Declaring that to the majority of today's youth, home, as nothing more than a place to sleep, eat and dress, Rev. Mr. Robathan asserted the situation was fast becoming serious and that respect, reverence and religion should play a greater part in the home life than it does.

"It is the home that must practise religion if character is to stand to the fore," said Mr. Robathan.

EXTENDING WORK
A decision was made at yesterday's sessions that the work of the young people's associations should be extended to take in boys and girls from Sunday school age to eighteen years in the formation of new junior branches throughout the province.

Frank C. Bain, of Vancouver, presided at the sessions.

Installation of provincial council officers was held last night. Norman Southcott, of Vancouver, was elected president; Ernest Gray, of Vancouver, was elected vice-president, and Miss Mable Thorneycroft, of Nanaimo, secretary. Miss Gladys Horton, of Vancouver, was made assistant secretary; Gilbert Brewer, of Vancouver, treasurer, and C. R. Bunting, of Vancouver, convener.

COMMITTEE CHOSEN
Miss Lenora Trickett, of New Westminster, and E. Gray, of Vancouver, were selected as a publicity committee, while Halford Wilson, Vancouver; Robert Tiffin, Vancouver; Clifford Wright, of New Westminster, and Jim Hurdorf, of Comox, were selected as delegates to the council.

TENSE DRAMA ON DOMINION SCREEN
"Bengal Tiger" Is Story of Circus Life—Many Unusual Acts Seen in Picture

No more colorful and picturesque drama has been presented on the screen than that of the new Warner Bros. production, "Bengal Tiger," which opens today at the Dominion Theatre.

The picture is a real circus, presenting all the big acts of the main tent, together with side shows and the general atmosphere of the circus grounds where ballyhoo artists work in superlatives about the glamour hidden behind the tent flaps of their particular shows.

More than that, it is a revelation of the intimate lives of the big top folk, both before the public and in their private tents. It follows them through their Summer tours on the road, in the special train, and in Winter quarters.

All the thrills and excitement and adventure of a real circus are found in the picture, the plot centering particularly about the big cages of the lions and tigers and other wild beasts, with Satan, a man-killing Bengal tiger, as the big menace. The big specialty circus acts, in fact, are enacted by expert circus performers en masse for the picture.

ATLAS Paramount's hilarious comedy of "sailor and girls set in Panama City" during the days when a battleship's crew members on shore leave continues at the Atlas Theatre. The film, "Lady Be Careful," has Lew Ayres, Mary Carlisle, Larry Crabbe, Benny Baker and Grant Withers in chief roles. Hilarious comedy dialogue of the story is from the pens of Dorothy Parker, Alan Campbell and Harry Ruskin.

CAPITOL William Powell attains the distinction of being a butler for the most eccentric family in the whole country, in the Universal romantic comedy, "My Man Godfrey," now at the Capitol Theatre. The charming, talented Carole Lombard is co-starred with him in the screen offering, which was taken from Eric Hatch's sparkling, mirth-stirring novel of the same name.

COLUMBIA Jimmy Dunn and Sally Theatre. Ellery are starring together again in "Don't Get Personal," which is now at the Columbia Theatre. This pair made screen history with "Bad Girl," winning the 1932 Motion Picture Academy award for their portrayal of "The Team." "Don't Get Personal" is a comedy story that combines romance, comedy and adventure.

Empire to Offer Cossack Singers
The Don Cossacks, meaning that thirty-six Russians will be heard on Monday, November 2, at the Empire Theatre.

Under the leadership of their director, Serge Jaroff, these men provide one of the most exciting experiences in the life of the concert-goer. For the past ten years they have been touring the world, creating a furor of enthusiasm.

Like a stupendous orchestra, they are played upon by their magnetic leader. They sing everything without the preliminary "giving of the note," while the compass of the voices ranges from A below the bass (D of the fourth line in the treble clef). What they have to offer the public is unique. Hear them in their stormy rendering of "The Captive Cossack" or "The Red Sarafan," or better yet, in the well-known "Volga Boatmen."

How It Started
By JEAN NEWTON
TO HARP ON
To harp on a phrase implying repetition of emphasis along certain lines to such an extent that it bores or irritates, contains within itself the explanation of its metaphorical use.

The expression was in general circulation between four and five hundred years ago in very much the same sense that it is used today.

Then as now the original allusion was to a person who played continuously on just one string of a harp, to the great annoyance of everybody within hearing.

The idiom, together with others current at the time first appears in Heywood's compilation, "Proverbs," published in 1546.

THE TUTTS... By Lord Young

MISSIONARY DROWNED
RANCHI, India (C)—Rev. G. Gilderay Glessop, English missionary of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, is believed to have been drowned when the boat in which he was crossing a swollen hill stream capsized.

Jane Dixon Says:

PRESENTING A LETTER FROM AN UNWISE YOUNG WOMAN, TELLING US ABOUT A MAN WHO DECLARES HE IS IN LOVE WITH TWO GIRLS AT THE SAME TIME

Some of you perhaps are going to write to me and say: Jane Dixon, you never did receive the letter in today's column. You thought it up yourself just to show what so-called love can do to an otherwise sane person. But you went too far. No girl can be as dizzy as this one you're giving us.

Oh, no?
Well, it is a real letter.
It is right here on my desk, or I wouldn't believe it myself.

Dear Jane Dixon: I have been going with a young man for a year. I am very much in love with him, and he tells me he loves me the same way.

But, the trouble is, he is divided between me and another girl. He was with the other girl before he was attentive to me.

At the time he was going with this other girl, I was having dates with his brother. He quit the other girl and began paying attention to me and urging me to stick to him and cut out his brother. Almost from the first he made love to me and told me that if his brother didn't marry me, he hoped I'd accept him.

I fell in love with him, so when his brother asked for a date, I refused.

DIVIDED HIS AFFECTION
After a few months I left his community, in which I had been employed, and was away for the Summer months. He wrote regularly, but started going with his old girl.

When I came back in the Fall he told me he would like to continue going with me, but that he could not quit the other girl entirely, as she clung to him and couldn't live without him.

I told him it was up to him to make a decision, that I was very much in love with him, and could not give him up.

The result was: he went with both of us.
After two months, I helped him enter a business school in a neighboring city. Through his work in the school he secured a very good position. It took him away from the community of the other girl and from mine, too, but we corresponded regularly and I saw him occasionally.

School was out. I came to the city in which he was attending classes, and found out that the other girl had been there three months, and I suppose he's been seeing her regularly, although he told me he saw her only once in three weeks.

NOW HE'S IN LOVE WITH BOTH

He still insists he is in love with both of us, and doesn't know what to do about it, because he can't stand to lose either of us. I tell him it's his fault, because he should not have made love to me, knowing in his heart he still loved the other girl.

I've gone with other men and tried to forget him, but I can't seem to love anyone else. When I suspect another man is beginning to care for me, I cut him out. The other girl won't even try to go with anyone else.

The young man and I both have prayed over this situation, but as yet our prayers haven't been answered. I do hope you will be able to give us some helpful advice.—C. P.

Answer: Don't blame the young man for his lack of decision. Blame yourself and the other girl.

When two of you clamoring for his favor and sighing that you "can't live without him," it's small wonder he looks in his mirror and sees there a great lover, a sort of super-Bromide, who must be big-hearted enough to save the lives of his clinging Juliets.

Your prayers have not been answered because the young man is asking God to tell him something he already knows, but which he is too weak or too selfish to acknowledge. If he loves one of you, he is fully aware of the fact. True love never leaves the heart in doubt. If, in all honesty, he cannot make a choice between you two girls, then he loves neither, and you should force him to a decision.

It would be best if the two of you got together, both refusing to have anything more to do with him until he pulled himself up and behaved like a man instead of a blooming narcissus.

TOPICAL SUBJECT AT LOCAL CHURCH

Church of Christ Scientist Held
Service of Thanksgiving Yesterday Morning

A Thanksgiving service was held in the local Church of Christ Scientist, yesterday, at 11 a.m. The subject of the lesson-sermon was "Thanksgiving," and the golden text was "I will praise the name of God with a song, and will magnify Him with thanksgiving" (Psalms lxix, 30).

One of the Scriptural passages in the lesson-sermon was from Malachi iii, 10: "Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouses, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith," said the Lord of hosts, "if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing that there shall not be room enough to receive it."

The lesson-sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Whatever inspires with Wisdom, Truth, or Love—be it song, sermon, or Science—blesses the human family with crumbs of comfort from Christ's table, feeding the hungry and giving living waters to the thirsty."

SUFFERS HEAD WOUND

Struck by a stone reported thrown by a young companion, Sheila Jones, eleven years old, daughter of Mrs. J. Jones, 1608 Pembroke Street, suffered a head wound that necessitated treatment at the Royal Jubilee Hospital on Sunday.

The Congregationalists, Methodists and Presbyterians in South Africa have committed themselves to the principle of the union of these three bodies, though the basis of union has not yet been elaborated. The proposals for such a union as now seems assured were first made many years ago and have had various ups and downs of enthusiasm ever since.

COMPLETE TOUR OF BULB FARM

Three Canadian Officials
Check Over United States
Iris Plantations

H. F. Olds, officer in charge of the plant quarantine service for British Columbia, Vancouver; R. J. Hastings and Dr. William Newton, of the Dominion plant pathology laboratory, Saanichton, have just returned from an inspection tour of the iris bulb plantations of Washington State.

The plant quarantine regulations prohibit any shipment of iris bulbs ever large, from entering the United States if a single bulb in the shipment is found with the characteristic symptoms of nematode infection. This regulation was brought into effect when the nursery inspection officers of the Federal and State Departments of Agriculture in Washington and Oregon found that the majority of their iris plantations were entirely free from the nematode disease. When the United States officials learned that the laboratory at Saanichton had discovered a more accurate method of finding nematode infested iris bulbs, they sent two officials, Dr. W. D. Courtney and Dr. D. O'Donnell, to investigate.

RETURN HOME

After they returned to Washington, they sent local authorities an official invitation to inspect their iris plantations, which they believed to be free from the nematode disease. They believed that a confirmation of their investigations by the Canadian officials would encourage better trade relationships. Although the stocks of all the leading bulb growers in the Puyallup Valley and the vicinity of Seattle were examined, not a single lot of infected bulbs was found. Since the purpose of the tour was to prepare for the planting of over fifty acres were examined.

The officials of the Dominion plant pathology laboratory at Saanichton believe that local growers could likewise clean up their iris stocks.

EXAMINE PLANTING STOCK

They advise the growers to carefully examine their planting stock by removing the old basal plate with the thumb nail or point of a knife. If the base under the plate is at all discolored, the bulbs should not be planted.

They advise to soak all iris bulbs before planting for one hour in mercuric chloride (corrosive sublimate) one ounce to six gallons of water, and to soak the bulbs in wooden or non-metallic containers.

They advise to lift iris bulbs every year and to replant upon new land, and to particularly avoid land that has grown narcosis bulbs in recent years.

What Today Means

"LIBRA"

If October 13 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:15 a.m. until 12:15 p.m., from 2:15 to 4:15 p.m., and from 7:15 to 9:15 p.m. The danger periods are from 8:15 to 10:15 a.m., from 4:15 to 6:15 p.m., and from 9:15 to 11:15 p.m.

This should be a lucky day, in a monetary way. If you allow your instinct to guide you, there is little chance of your doing the wrong thing this day. Avoid being in too much of a hurry to listen to anyone, for good news is liable to come to you from an unexpected source. You may have a proposition made to you worthy of your consideration. Business deals are liable to involve the impression the seller will make regarding his ability to render good service. Intentional or unintentional slights are liable to spoil many a friendly gathering this day, as well create enmity, so be careful in this respect. Married and engaged couples, and those who are expecting to become betrothed, will accomplish little or nothing, if they fret or fume on this day.

If a woman and October 13 is your birthday, you ought to be easily satisfied, for fussing and fuming should not be among your habits. You are perhaps a bit too conservative. You must be liberal in your views, particularly in regard to the opinions of others. You have prospects of coming into possession of a large amount of personal property within a comparatively short time. One of the arts, apparently, will yield a decided influence over some of your activities. If you are socially ambitious, it will be gratifying to know that there are no limitations to the triumphs you have a chance of scoring in the advancement of your aspirations. Cultivate good habits and correct bad ones regarding eating because diet and regularity of meals are important if you wish to avoid physical complications. As a musician, lecturer, demonstrator, writer, teacher or business woman you may attain distinction. In the selection of a husband you probably will display good judgment.

The child born on October 13 usually early in youth must be taught obedience and to respect the opinion of elders. Any tendency to be pert ought not to be encouraged. Proper training when young will assure success and popularity when it reaches maturity.

If a man and October 13 is your natal day, you are probably home-loving, industrious and generous. You ought to have a keen sense of perception. In the field of finance, science, art, education or literature you should meet with good fortune.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

SELECTIVE MEMORY

The popular fancy concerning contract experts is that, along with other excellent qualities, they are blessed with precocious memories. Like most widespread legends, this one is largely false. Occasionally, it is true, one finds an expert with such an extraordinary memory that he is able to note and carry in mind the fifty-two cards of each deal, as played. But this is the exception, not the rule. Moreover, it does not follow that the possessor of such a memory holds an advantage over his less gifted associates.

The truth of the matter is that contract does not demand extraordinary mental feats. The crux of expert play is selective memory.

Players should train themselves to recognize and select the one or two suits that require close observation and memorizing at the spots played. Consider today's hand as an example.

West opened the King of clubs, and dummy won with the Ace. Looking over alternative lines of play, declarer saw that it would be unwise to depend on a 3-3 diamond break, and so far as ruffing out the fourth diamond was concerned, this might require putting up dummy's Ace of spades to avoid an overruff. But since the Ace of spades would be necessary to help draw the opponents' trumps, this plan also was unappealing. The next step was to consider the possibility of setting up dummy's long suit. Declarer saw this could be done if the opposing hearts lay 3 and 3 and the trump 3-2. (With a 4-1 trump break, dummy's Ace of spades would not be a timely entry.)

Deciding that the heart establishment plan was the best available, declarer laid down the King and Queen of trumps and followed these up with the Ace and eight of hearts. On the latter two he carefully noted West's play of the Queen and ten. Winning the second heart lead in the dummy, and noting with satisfaction that his nine and seven, by virtue of the cards already played from his own hand and West's, formed a sequence, he now had an easy line of play. He led dummy's seven of hearts. East correctly ducked, hoping that declarer would ruff, but declarer made the perfectly safe, "nothing-to-lose" discard of his remaining club. The seven holding the trick, another heart was led and ruffed. Then dummy's Ace was used as a re-entry and to draw East's last trump, and the fifth heart cashed as a good trick. Thus, declarer had only to concede two diamonds.

By watching the spots of the heart suit, the only one that had any bearing on the hand, he had made five when his contract might have been jeopardized by other lines of play.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Question—When a player has re-

trump in partner's hand sufficient trump support to raise?

Answer—Yes.

THE SALMON QUESTION

Sir—A dispatch from Seattle dated the 8th inst., which appeared on your front page this morning, opens again the subject of the salmon and the fur seal. For forty-five years I have made occasional use of the press of Canada to point out to all mankind the terrible waste of our surface swimming fishes, especially of our salmon, caused by the maintenance of the herds of the fur seals by the United States, Russia and Japan. As I have said time and again, I made a study of the subject for the period of about twelve months, during all of which time I was among the herds, consecutively off the Pribiloff, Kurile and Komandorski Islands. Examination of the stomachs of hundreds of seals at each location, produced the same evidence that the main food is salmon. Then too, the seal which has no way to cache his kill eats what he wants at the moment and allows the remainder to sink. He also brings of a playful nature, like the cat with its prey, tortures to death millions of salmon that he does not need.

Therefore, I say that the fur seal is destroying more of our food fish in one day than all the fishermen of the world can do in a month. The fisherman seldom tries to follow the mystery of the salmon's migration, but only awaits its return. The fur seal follows the salmon destroying all the time.
